

BONAVENTURE RIVER

~ GASPÉ PENINSULA, QUEBEC ~

2006

JUNE 4 - 10 • JUNE 18 - 24

*The Gaspé's unique combination of Quebec Maritime and rugged north country provides the backdrop for the Bonaventure - reputed to be the most pristine river east of the Canadian Rockies. Flowing out of remote Lac Bonaventure, nestled high in the Chic Choc Mountains, the river features forested gorges, dramatic mountain vistas, and crystalline salmon filled waters. With a consistent dropping gradient, the river is characterized by virtually continuous mildly technical Class I-II+ whitewater (a few Class III drops in the gorge section) —all the way to the sea. An ideal river for solo paddlers and poling. Trip meets in Bonaventure, P.Q. the evening prior at our Quebec partner's riverside base camp, and also includes the last night's inn accommodation — overlooking the Baie de Chateurs. *A unique mini-expedition on one of eastern Canada's most appealing rivers, the Bonaventure remains a perennial favorite of many Sunrise's guides.

PACKING CONSIDERATIONS: All participants should have received our Northern Personal Packing List. The climate in central Quebec, in early summer, is not much different that Maine, or northern New England; daytime temps in the 55-80+ degree range, nighttime temps 40-55 degrees, although a light frost can still be possible. As usual layering is the key principle, and substantial outer shell garments are a must for wind and rain. The water should be warm enough to swim by mid-June.
