SPEY RIVER DESCENT ~ HIGHLANDS CLASSIC ~

* CUSTOM DATES & ITINERARIES: JUNE THRU SEPT.; 4 - 7 Days *

SCHEDULED 4 DAY TRIPS (4 NIGHTS - INNS & CAMPING): JUNE 2 - 5 • JULY 7 - 10 • SEPT. 1 - 4

The River Spey is the classic Scottish river descent - offering perspectives of the rich cultural and historical heritage of the Highlands within the context of a superb canoeing experience.

The trip starts on Loch Insh, where any necessary skills coaching occur before the river journey to the sea. Flowing through semi-wild, old growth forests, with spectacular views of the Cairngorm Mountains as a backdrop, the river builds in volume in speed - though the rapids never exceed more than Class II+. Passing many of the renowned of the renowned Speyside single malt whisky distilleries, and several picturesque highland villages enroute, the trip culminates in fantastic views of the open sea - often one gets the opportunity to paddle alongside seals and dolphins in the bay. Sunrise operates in association with Scotland's leading canoe instruction and guide outfits. Trip meets in Edinburgh (includes all land transfers); and also includes two night's bed & breakfast accommodations. Especially recommended as a fall foliage trip in September.

RIVER Spey Descent ITINERARY

Overview

The Spey descent is the classic Scottish river descent, culminating in fantastic views out to sea, possibly paddling alongside seals that have entered the mouth of the river & observing dolphins in the bay. The trip begins on Loch Insh, where any necessary skills coaching takes place before beginning the river journey to the sea. Being a large river the Spey valley carries both road and rail routes and river corridor is rural, picturesque, and historic, this is not a wilderness trip in the true sense of the word.

Canoeing Level of Difficulty

This trip is suitable for canoeists of all standards; each day the river gets a little bigger & faster than the day before making it ideal for teaching the vital techniques as the trip progresses. Essentially Class I-II+

Expedition Meeting Place

We will meet you at Edinburgh Airport and drive you north to your Guest House in Aviemore. (3 hours drive) We will return you to the airport. Other pick-up/drop off points may be negotiated.

Accommodation

Unless otherwise arranged within a custom itinerary, First night's accommodation is in guest house in Aviemore, Inverness-shire, then camping on river for the next three nights, with the final evening further south in the picturesque town of Aberfeldy. Description of each day

Day 1: Transfer Edinburgh Airport to Aviemore Transfer from the Edinburgh Airport to the Guest House in Aviemore, Inverness-shire.

Day 2: Aviemore to Boat Of Balliefurth

Our journey begins with some 'warm up' instruction. Then we access the river with our full expedition equipment to begin our journey downstream from Aviemore to Boat of Balliefurth/ This first day features very gentle Class I rapids and fantastic views towards the Cairngorms. Our evening is spent at a riverside camp. (approx 11 miles)

This longer day's paddle, entering the heart of the Speyside malt whisky country, will include plenty of time to work on the essential skills needed for the rapids coming up in the second half of our journey; the day finishes with 'the washing machine', a short but exciting little rapid! We camp near the old railway at Blacksboat. (approx 16 miles)

Day 4: Blacksboat To Craigellachie

Our river running skills will be tested to the full today, with the famous Knockando rapids and numerous shorter rapids which will still need our attention. Passing Charleston of Aberlour (home of Walker's shortbread), a few miles on we reach the village of Craigellachie and our final night out. (approx 10 miles)

Day 5: Craigellachie To Spey Bay

All the way down the Spey, we will have noticed its character changing;. Today brings the most dramatic shift in scenery; once we have passed below Ben Aign the river picks up speed as it slides towards the sea. Beyond Fochabers the river opens out into a coastal plain ,meandering through gravel banks and journey's end at Spey Bay.

(approx 17 miles) Once off the river, we drive south to Aberfeldy to put us within striking distance of Edinburgh Airport.

Day 6: Transfer to airport at Edinburgh

Contact us if you would like suggestions for extending your stay in Edinburgh, or elsewhere in the Highlands.

$1690 - $2350* per person; 4 - 6 days (*based on 6 - 8 participants;)
